THE LAST OF DEMOCRACY.

Yesterday witnessed the expiring throes of the Democratic party in the United States. It had long been suffering from delerious tremors, and at last, emulating as illustrious example it "fell bleeding and burst asunder in the midst, and all its members gushed out."

After a scene of indescribable excitement, and after the New York delegation had voted to admit the bogus delegates from Louisiana and Alabama—a majority of the Baltimore Convention having voted for their admission and laid a motion to reconsider on the table—Mr. Russell of Virginia rose and said that his delegation could no longer retain their seats in that body. This movement, which carried out 24 of the 50 delegates from Virginia, was promptly followed by large secessions from North Carolina, Maryland, Kentucky, Tennessee, (19 out of 24 delegates retiring,) California, Oregon, Delaware, and Massachusetts. The only Southern State which remains in the Convention is Missouri. A motion for adjournment was made and carried before the break had proceeded any further. A dispatch received at 2 o'clock this morning says that Mr. Bogus has telegraphed suggesting a concession to the South in the platform, and authorizing the withdrawal of his name.

MR. THOMASSON'S SPEECH.

Let us call attention to Mr. Thomasson's speech, printed on another page of this paper. It is calm and moderate in its tone, convincing in its statement of fact, and fair and conservative in its conclusions. Mr. Thomasson, now a lawyer in this city, was formerly a Whig member of Congress from the Louisville (Ky.) District—the intimate personal and political friend of Henry Clay. His example, in this crisis, in speaking out for the success of Republican and Republican doctrine ought to and we doubt will have great weight with old Whigs who make Mr. Clay their model in political life.

THE DUTY OF PATRIOTS.

The duty of all men who love their country, desire the perpetuation of the American Union and the conservation of the principles of free government as the basis of our political institutions is plain. The Democratic party has broken into two by the weight of its frauds and iniquities. It has ceased to be a power in the land. The two fragments are hotile and embittered. Each will bring a candidate into the field, to the end that the contest now with the people may be transferred to the House. In the present state of the popular mind our institutions cannot bear the strain which a struggle in that form would bring on. No such opportunity, constituted as the House is, must be given to those who plot treason and disunion. There is but one way under the sun by which it can be avoided. There is but one leader now to whom all men can turn for hope, and that man is ABRAHAM LINCOLN. In his election the party of treason would be rebuked. In his consecration the country would be reassured of a strict and impartial observance of the Constitution and laws.

Let us all can rejoice. He is the only candidate who is able to command a majority of the electoral votes of the North and West, and to ward off that blow in the House which the disunionists west the chance to strike. Douglas' most sanguine friends will not make a show of fight in more than six of the Northern States, and they have not the ghost of a chance of carrying a State in the South. The candidate of the South will not have an electoral ticket in half of the States of the North. The Bell movement is an empty sound; men are not in the humor to play politics now; they are in earnest. We must then come back to LINCOLN, and give him an overwhelming victory in all the free States and carry for him Missouri, Delaware and possibly Maryland. If in every patriot's duty to aid in the good work. We know that the unaided strength of the Republicans is sufficient to make him President. But the moral force of his Administration would be greatly weakened if he should be forced into it by a contest in the House.

THE CITY.

Auction Sales this Morning.

New and second hand Furniture, Carpets, Pianos, Pianos, &c. at 10 o'clock at the Exchange, by Gilbert & Sampson, Auctioneers.

The Berean Baptist Church has lately paid off an indebtedness of $1,181. Well done.

Capt. Jno. Solar Fernsham [illegible] of this city, has removed to St. Louis, Mo.

All complaints against nuisances should be made at the City Marshal's Office. When thus properly made they will be promptly attended to.

The excursion train for Geneva will leave the Wells street depot this morning at half past eight, connecting with an excursion train from Aurora, at the Junction.

John Schmidt, on trial before the Superior Court, on account charge of larceny was on Thursday found guilty and sentenced one year to the Penitentiary.

A STARTLE APPAIR. The attention of the Circuit Court was occupied all day yesterday in the trial of a case, "James D. Beckett versus Wm. H. Kennicott and others," to recover damages for the loss of a horse, the grounds being a excursion to Blue Island to day. Cars start from the Rock Island depot at 9 A. M. Tickets twenty five cents.

MR. A. T. WILLIAMS, of Hope Nurseries, West Side, will accept our thanks for a beautiful lot of geraniums, fuchsias, etc. If Mr. Williams sells as good an article as he gives away his must be a nice place to spend money.

Hay making was going on in the Court House square yesterday. The grass had been cut several days, and had, by its perfume, reminded every passer by, who had ever been in hay in the 4, of the days of his childhood.

NEW MUSIC.—Messrs. Root & Cady have three piano forte arrangements of the serenade Come Z' Gentil, from "Don Pasquale," sung by Brignoli at his recent concerts in this city. One of these arrangements is by Thalberg, another by Wallace, the third by Gottschalk.

The picnic excursion of the Young Men's Christian Association of the Third Presbyterian Church to Lake Forest, starts this morning at nine o'clock from the old depot of the Chicago and Milwaukee Railroad. All who intend going should be on hand early.

A BUFFALO EDITOR.—Anson G. Chester was in the city yesterday. He was on his return from Jacksonville, where he had been to drive out the usual press at the Commencement of the Illinois College, which took place on Wednesday.

SERENADE.—The members of Light Guard Band, ever on the alert for doing some pleasant act, had the kindness to pause in front of the PRESS AND TRIBUNE establishment last night, at eleven o'clock, and treated us to a delightful serenade. On the part of editors, publishers, reporters, printers—and the devil, also—we return grateful thanks to the leaders and members of this crack musical corps.

CAMPAIGN DOCUMENTS.—"The Republican Campaign Songster," edited by W. H. Burleigh, Esq., "Life of Abraham Lincoln," by D. W. Bartlett of the Independent," "Life and Position of the Lives of Lincoln and Hamlin, &c., &c. All the above are furnished in quantities to suit the trade, on the most reasonable terms, by McNally & Co., 51 Dearborn street.

NEXT MEETING OF THE NATIONAL MEDICAL CONVENTION.—The next meeting of the National Medical Convention will be held, on the anniversary in New Haven, Connecticut, on the 1st Tuesday in June, 1861. The attendance was more present at the meeting spoken of and nearly every State in the Union was represented.

MAN BITTEN BY A DOG.—A gentleman, while riding out yesterday afternoon, in the vicinity of the Lake View House, took occasion to enter a farm for the purpose of stealing gooseberries fruit, when he was attacked, unawares, by a large dog, and bitten painfully—but we trust not so seriously as to deprive of recovery—about the legs. He will probably ascertain the next time whether the dog is or is not the property of farmers on others' property.

RUNAWAY.—At about 7 o'clock last evening, a horse, attached to a buggy, and belonging to Mr. Valle, becoming frightened, started at a fearful rate from the corner of Madison street up State. Arriving at Court Place, he undertook to go in—all right for the horse, but awful hard for the buggy, which suffered somewhat by coming in collision with a corner post, smashing dasher, springs, and top, and making a pretty general wreck of the whole affair. Post wasn't hurt.

INFECTION DISSOLVED.—Judge Manierre has dissolved the injunction issued against the Board of Health, in the case of Dr. Rauch, which we noticed at length a few days since. The Board of Health, in the exercise of its discretion, ordered the removal of a certain nuisance, which was complained of by Dr. Rauch, as injurious to his health

THE DUTY OF PATRIOTS.

The duty of all men who love their country, desire the perpetuation of the American Union and the conservation of the principles of free government on the basis of our political institutions is plain. The Democratic party has broken into two by the weight of its fraudulent iniquities. It has ceased to be a power in the land. Its two fragments are feeble and embittered. The Bell movement is an empty sound; men are not in the humor to play politics now; they are in earnest. We must then come back to LINCOLN, and give him an overwhelming victory in all the free States and carry for him Missouri, Delaware and possibly Maryland. This seems to be the course of duty to all in the grand work of saving our country.

Rev. Paul Andersen.

Our religious readers will regret to learn that Rev. Paul Andersen, for the last twelve years Pastor of the Norwegian Evangelical Lutheran Church of this city, preached his farewell sermon on Wednesday, and left for Europe on Thursday morning. He expects to spend the evening of his days in his native Norway. We detract nothing from the merits of our other clergymen when we say that Mr. Andersen has been one of the most laborious, devoted and useful ministers among us, and our Christian public will be sorry to part with one who has so long been ready to do his part, and more than his part, in every good word and work. We have known him long and well, and never have we been acquainted with a man, who better fulfilled all the duties of his sacred office, or who more nearly obeyed the injunction of the apostle to "Follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness."

The results of his labors, are the best testimony to his faithfulness as a pastor. He and the efficient men who have ever "stayed up his hands," in his efforts to do good, have under the blessing of Providence, literally built up the church of which he was pastor. It was organized in 1848, with 30 members. It now numbers more than about 500 have joined the church. He leaves it with a membership of 350, and a large congregation, mostly of his own country men. During his ministry here he has baptized some 350 couples, attended 1,000 funerals, and preached more than 2,000 sermons. In all the early years of his labors, when his congregation was scattered over twenty thousand, he was literally again for all of them, and director to their new homes. During our cholera visitations, no man did more as a minister to the wants of the distressed, and to point the sorrowing ones to that home where sadness and parting are no more.

On Tuesday evening a pleasant re-union of pastor and people took place at the house of Chly Marshal, 194 Lake street, when appropriate and appropriate testimonials were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Andersen. On Wednesday the latter had presented the pulpit and alter with choice flowers, and a large crowd assembled to hear the parting words of wisdom from their beloved pastor, and to bid him a final farewell. That parting we shall not attempt to describe. Everybody in Chicago knows, or should know, that the Norwegians are among our most industrious, honest and thriving citizens. When Mr. Andersen commenced his labors among them, it is not to their discredit to say that they were poor; he leaves them nobly independent, and many of them in really affluent circumstances. By his unwearied efforts for their moral and religious welfare, he has contributed largely and directly to that prosperity which as a people they now enjoy. Long may the blessings of the poor "follow him," and wherever his labors among his native hills are ended may he receive the highest reward of a "good and faithful servant" of his Divine master.

A New Department by the Poor of Chicago.

The following is from the pen of M. L. Booth, author of the "Illustrated History of the Poor City," translator of some of Victor Cousin's works, &c. After speaking of the Displeasure of women and children at No. 175 West Madison street, she says:

The titness of women for the study of medicine and surgery, unanimously, the objective necessity, of their undertaking the treatment of their own sex, is now so generally acknowledged to be a matter of doubt. To the intelligent reader it seems ridiculous, to be so insist that they shall be thoroughly educated in the profession. We are glad to find that, in this respect, Drs. Bucklet and Jones, of Boston, Mass., and Amherst, Mass., respectable medical positions, have enjoyed unusual advantages in New Haven, Conn., at the medical school of medicine, and are thus recognized by the medical profession. Some graduates of the Pennsylvania Medical College, and other medical institutions, have years ago, in New York city, by Drs. Hawkesbeth and Emily Blackwell, and Dr. Ackerman, in Boston, have set up affording to the graduates of female medical colleges an opportunity to study medical practice at the bedside of a patient under the eye of an experienced practitioner, before entrusting themselves in the practice of their profession. This institute, which was established on the European plan under the personal supervision of Dr. Dakenschn, formerly assistant physician to the Royal Hospital Charite of Berlin, Prussia, has been in the front rank of the medical profession, and has enjoyed unusual advantages in New York, which is the metropolis with the people may be transferred to the House. In the present state of the popular mind, our institutions cannot bear the strain which a struggle in that body would begin; on. No such opportunity, constituted as the House is, must be given to those who plot treason and disunion. There is but one way under the sun by which this could be met. There is but one leader can to whom all men can turn for hope, and that man is Abraham Lincoln. In his election the angry elements would be allayed. In his concentration the country would be reassured of a strict and impartial observance of the laws and compacts.

Man enough. He is the only candidate who is able to command a majority of the electoral votes of the States, and to ward off that blow in the House which the disunionists want the chance to strike. Douglas' most sanguine friends will not make a show of him in more than six of the Northern States, and they have not the ghost of a chance of carrying a State in the South. The candidate of the South will not have an electoral vote in half of the States of the North. The Bell party most is an empty sound; men are not in the humor to play politics now; they are in earnest. We must then come back to LINCOLN, and give him an overwhelming majority in the free States and carry for him Maryland, Delaware and possibly Maryland. If is every patriot's duty to aid in the good work. We know that the unadmitted secession of Republicans is sufficient to make him President. But the moral force of his Administration will be increased, and his enemies' power for mischief weakened, by numbers. We want an almost unanimous vote, that this embittered and dangerous section of the sections may be and that the Union, with its countless blessings, may be preserved. Regardless, then, of all old ties of party, all old prejudices growing out of personal ties, patriotic men will lose no time in adding their votes to the loud acclaim which is to call him to the management of our national affairs. Let us go back to the principles of policy of the Fathers. "The Union and LINCOLN," are the watchwords!

Later from California.

The following is the substance of the news received by the Overland Express from California, which reached Springfield (Mo.) on the 21st:

SAN FRANCISCO, (Mo) June 21.—The Overland Mail, with San Francisco dates, arrived this evening, and brings the following important news from the Pacific coast:

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—The mail departing to day leaves California in the midst of great excitement, occasioned by Indian hostilities in Western Utah. The war thus so hideously opens. Within the month just closed, Indians have made attacks on different parties of white men in that region, and have killed and robbed as far as Honey Lake. The station on the Pony Express and Salt Lake Mail route, which was to have been destroyed, and the stock driven off over a distance of more than 200 miles northward from Carson Valley. Parties of Indians constantly appear in route and recent it impossible to repair stations, unless United States troops are provided to protect them, and that has not been done, and will not be, from the necessary more from other duties. Under these circumstances the Pony Express has been discontinued, which will time as its trips can be resumed without jeopardizing the lives of its patrons. The main body of Indians are concentrated at Pyramid Lake, where Col. Crosby's party was recently defeated, and over 70 of them killed, as not ascertained. The Indians, doubtful, well armed and number, according to information obtained from Col. Crosby, from 1500 to 3000 warriors. On the 29th Col. Mayo' party of one company of U. S. Dragoons. The Sioux troops, started from Carson Valley for the Indian headquarters at Pyramid Lake, from Carson River, where the first Indian murders occurred.

Col. Mayo' party came upon a party of 200 Indians, attacked and defeated them, killing seven Indians—among them, a principal chief. Two of the whites were killed, and one wounded.

On the 31st the troopers and volunteers marched for Pyramid Lake, and by the 2d inst. they confidently expect to bring on a general battle with the main body of savages.

The effect of the Indian hostilities has been to concentrate all the mining population of the Western Slope, numbering 7,000 or 8,000 men within a very small space in the vicinity of settlements.

The mining accounts all point to the immense richness and extent of the mineral region.

The pony express with St. Louis dates of the 25th May, now ten days over due, has not arrived and probably has been cut off by Indians. The express express of the 15th and 25th May, passed through Carson Valley on the journey Eastward, and is hoped that safety over the Indian infested portion of the route. Much apprehension is felt for their safety. They each have about 150 letters.

The Iowa Hill stage was robbed of $2,000 in charge of Wells, Fargo & Co., on the 26th, by six Bigfoots. The money has not been recovered, but was promptly paid to the Express Company.

Fire at Pekin, Ill.

PEKIN, June 22.—This morning at about two o'clock a fire was discovered issuing from the back window of the upper story of the two-story brick building on Court street. The building, with a portion of its contents, was destroyed. The first floor was occupied by Wagenseller & Co., drugists, and the second floor by Dr. Dennis, dentist, and Jas. Wilson, artist. The building was owned by Haines & Moses. Loss not known. Drug store partially insured.

Attempted Murder.

NEW YORK, June 22.—A Mrs Gaw was near murdered by her husband this morning. He threw vitrol in her face, from jealousy. Both were actors.

Dunspugh Sangster," edited by W. H. Burleigh, Esq.; "Life of Abraham Lincoln," by D. W. Bartlett of the Independent; "Wigwam" edition of the lives of Lincoln and Hamlin, &c. All the above furnished in quantities to suit the trade, on the most favorable terms, by McNally & Co., 51 Dearborn street.

NAVY MEETING OF THE NATIONAL MEDICAL CONVENTION.—The next annual meeting of the National Medical Convention will be held, at the thirteenth anniversary in New Haven, Connecticut, on the 5th inst., to take place in Chicago on the first Tuesday in June, 1861. Six hundred delegates were present at the meeting spoken of, and nearly every State in Union was elected President 1860, 1861 for the ensuing year.

MAN FITTER AT A DOG.—A gentleman, while riding out yesterday afternoon, in the vicinity of the Lake View House, took occasion to entice a farm for the purpose of feeding chickens fruit, when he was attacked, unawares, by a large dog, and bitten painfully—but we trust not seriously, as to despair of recovery—about the legs. He will probably ascertain the next time whether the dog is muzzled before he ventures on chicken stealing.

BUNAWAY.—At about 7 o'clock last evening, a horse, attached to a buggy, and belonging to Mr. Valle, becoming frightened, started at a rapid rate from the corner of Madison and Sup State. Arriving at Court Place, he undertook to go in—all right for the horse, but awkward for the buggy, which offered no resistance in coming in collision with a corner post, smashing dasher, springs, and top, and making a complete wreck of the whole affair. Fast wasn't hurt.

INJECTION DISSOLVED.—Judge Manierre has dissolved the injunction obtained by J. H. McVicker restraining the publication of his proceeding with measures for the collection of the $500 license levied upon his theatrical establishment. The Judge's reasons for so doing in this manner were given at length to the Court on Wednesday. It now remains to be seen whether the Judge is correct, as we are assured that Manager McVicker will not contribute to the $500 license, and his backers propose taking the case to the Supreme Court.

FOREIGNERS.—Several gentlemen who were taking their dinners at an eating house contiguous to the dismantled Revere Hotel were yesterday nearly frightened out of their appetites by the falling of a large portion of the northern wall of that building, upon which the masons had been at work and at last dislodged. They were only reassured by assurance, that it was the roof of the restaurant was still whole.

But, seriously, is the present condition of the Revere hotel walls safe? Are our processes having been nearly all taken out—exactly safe?

MEDICINAL WINE.—Mr. I. E. Madge, of Hillsboro, Illinois, has half a dozen kinds of Rhubarb Wine, of his own manufacture, which has in a slight degree the peculiar medicinal properties of the Rhubarb, without its bad, in its nauseous taste. We should not choose Rhubarb Wine as a steady tipple, nor as a substitute for Port or Madeira, but that which Mr. Madge has placed at our disposal has a pleasant aromatic flavor, superior to a majority of the compounds known as wine in the market, and we have no doubt it would "make drunk comfortable" as quickly and quite as safely as they. Of the medicinal effects we know nothing to say.

FAST RIDES.—Some persons or persons unknown, not having the funds to pay for traveling for the same, took a hack belonging to Messrs. Jones & Powell, on Thursday afternoon, and went in for a fast ride, which was free enough. The horses returned to the stable of their owners in the twelve hours, and left the hack, which, as there was for it, at the back—and they like the Hibernian's dog, which, to save expense he had fastened to the bumper of the rear passenger car, "ate the passenger train—" the worse for wear" they had sustained. The hack was finally found, a perfect wreck.

PIRATICAL.—The readers of the PRESS and Tribune have seen accounts for piratical sports, can now enjoy themselves to their heart's content, by taking a trip to Cotterhout, on the Calumet, fifteen miles from this city. One of our citizens spent the day there yesterday, and returned last evening, bringing nineteen trophies of his skill, one pike, which, a noble picker, weighing six and a half pounds, was lately forwarded to our sanctum. This is only a sample of what can also have done in the same way. By taking the Calumet Cars, you are within a real cure to Calumet Station, you are within a good charter to all the pike fishing.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad Company, held June 14, 1860, the following persons were elected as Directors for the ensuing year (being the same as the Board of last year, except Mr. Kidder, elected in place of Mr. J. B. Burch, Esq., who, having some time previously tendered his resignation, peremptorily declined a re-election), to wit: John Van Nostrick, Salario, Ill.; Chauncy S. Colton, Galesburg, Ill.; James F. Joy, Detroit, Mich.; Erastus Corning, Albany, N. Y.; John M. Forbes, John W. Brooks, Samuel R. Spinney, Robert S. Watson, William Brown and Henry P. Kidder, Boston, Mass.; and Edward L. Baker, New Bedford, Mass.

Attempted Murder.

NEW YORK, June 22.—A Mrs Gaw was near murdered by her husband this morning. He threw vitrol in her face, from jealousy. Both were actors.

Oak Orchard Acid Spring Water.

This Water is guaranteed entirely free, and the demand for it increased every year. The water is selected by the trade, and is pronounced by all who use it to be the most powerful and pleasant Acid Spring now in use. The demand for it is so great that it is now bottled for sale in Chicago, and is pronounced by the Medical Faculty to be in all respects equal to the celebrated Saratoga Water, and far superior to any other Acid Water. It is delicious to beverage, and is a most valuable remedy for many diseases, which ordinary mineral waters fail to relieve. Its curative properties are unsurpassed by any Water in the market, and, as a general tonic, it is the most valuable remedy for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Gravel, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, and all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels, and for Fever and Ague, it is unsurpassed by any Water in the market. Its effects are permanent, and it is not a cathartic, but a tonic, and will not, like other Mineral Waters, cause a relaxed condition of the bowels, but will cure it. It is a most valuable remedy for Gravel, Stone, Weakness, Nervous Debility, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dysentery, Diarrhœa

THE GREAT QUARREL.

As much as we may deprecate the threats and violence of the Secesders and their friends at Baltimore, there is not a doubt that they represent all the principle and all the logic in the Democratic Convention; and when principle, logic and pledges are violated by the Seceders, there will be few to complain of the South because her delegates display their indignation in a way more forcible than polite—more emphatic than genteel. Look at it! Both wings of the pro Slavery party admit (1.) That Slaves under the Constitution are property; (2.) That, according to the decision of the Supreme Court, in the case of Dred Scott, they may be taken to the Territories, wherever they cannot be legally expelled by Congress or the Territorial Legislature; and, (3.) that each faction agreed to abide the decision of the Court whenever it should be made. This being the case, the Southern men demand that their property shall be protected in the Territories, like all other property, if necessary, by a law of Congress. To this the Douglas men, admitting the premises, dissent and say that the right of the South in this common domain is a barren right, which, in operation, of Which they must be content; that though the Constitution carries Slavery into the Territories, neglect to legislate or impriently legislate of the Southern men, may kill the guaranteed property in that instrument, and expose property to hazards which would be intolerable, and so practically create the necessity "governing it to a place of safety." Other words, they maintain that a Territorial Legislature can, if it pleases, exclude slaves, which Congress cannot do—that which Congress cannot do, the Constitution says shall be held to be slaves. That a Territorial Legislature may delegated to visit the French Protestants and the Catholics also in Kankakee County, where they found a very sad state of affairs. Slavery is an evil that cannot be cured by half measures. The Republican party hold that slavery, as a moral and political evil, is so fearful in fact, established by long law and intertwined with the framework of societies wholly distinct from ours and quite beyond our reach, as to be wholly different from slavery on the mere ground of its being a moral question. The Republican party hold it so, and for the same reason, that it is vastly different from slavery in India working westward from Africa to America. Separated from their surroundings, the trio are as unlike as much alike as an equal number of peas. Those who would do the ancient law of Christ's law (which we have subscribed) As to the remaining twin, we are not only audio ize to fix a limit to their hideous growth, but we are especially commended to act in that behalf by the example of legislation extending from the year 1787 to 1854.

Herein lies the difference between the Republican and Democrat in person of the times. The one looks upon slavery as intrinsically wrong; the other regards it either as positively right and just, or as a thing totally indifferent, concerning which a man or woman and religion's sanctity is exactly the fitting condition for a man's mind. The one says that in so far as we can arrest the evil and withstand its growth consistently with our obligations to the country we have entered into, it is imperative that we should do so; the other says that inasmuch as it is not an evil, let it grow, let it expand, give it the power—who cares? The one says, that the laws prohibiting its introduction from Dahomey and those Prohibiting its extension into the Territories of the United States having been enacted as the same stand and in the same spirit, it was clearly the understanding of the fathers that slavery was a plague whose spread should be as judiciously guarded against as all diseases; the other says, that the founders of the government having been in error as to their estimate of the moral status of slavery, it devolves upon the posterity to keep hands off, in all respects whatsoever.

The Northern Democracy have not yet followed their logic to its unavoidable conclusion, as regards the African Slave Trade, but we opinion from this reasoning wonder that they are not one mind to the re-opening of the traffic. If slavery is a good thing or an indifferent thing, which may be voted up or voted down by a single majority, where is the objection for limiting its source of supply? Why not treat both ends alike? If it has a proper thing to send into Kansas "if the people want it," why is it not as well to get it from Congo or from Mozam, if the people like the Congo article better? Will some squatter sovereign tell us?

THE COMING CROP.—BUSINESS PROSPECTS.

Our information gathered from all sources and every observation we have been able to make, I ad to the conclusion that the prospects never better. The Northwest, west and Southwest, The breadth sown is more than ever before, and with favorable weather for a few weeks more, the harvest will be secured, and our growers will be paid for their labor, and Northwestern Missouri were an exception, but it is believed the late rains have brought forward the crops in that section, and will make them largely exceed the force estimated by the gentlemen a few weeks since. It is scon to form any judgment in relation to the corn crop; but thus far it looks well, and if will if unlike largely augment the present abundance. It is of course possible to at some-ing may yet blast the cheering prospects before us; but it will be time enough to mourn over calamities when they are actually up in arms.

With a prospect of a good crop, comes that of increasing business. Railways must bring the produce to market, and in return the farmers will purchase more goods, and the roads will largely increase. Hence goods and manufactur d articles from the most lengin Scant article of luxury and necessity to the poorest on stem engine will be in better demand. Everything gives a promise of returning prosperity. Should the condition of the European market require large drafts upon our staple produce, a single year will suffice to make an immense off ricos in the financial e-edition of our people. In any event, however, the large resources which the coming crop holds fair to yield, will, if properly applied, go far towards wiping out old obligations, and providing means for further progress.

But it may not be out of place to inculcate, perhaps for the hundredth time since the fall of '57, lessons of economy, and to urge our people to liquidate all old debts before entering upon new purchases, however tempting may be chances of profit. Let our farmers keep down personal and family expenses to the old landmarks of strict necessity till store bills and mortgages are all paid. Let our

Kendall County.

The Republicans of Kendall County held a large and enthusiastic mass meeting at Yorkville, on the 4th of June ago, by which resolutions were passed to the occasion by their stirring campaign songs.

WHITE WORK AMONG THE INDIANS.—The Chatfield (Minn.) Democrat says that two white women are living at the Agencies, near the Lower Sioux Indian hotelbonds. One of them, Mrs. Renville, came from Illinois about eighteen months ago, and, after a vigorous courtship, was married to her dusky mate, and married him that she might elevate the race. She is now teaching the Indian girls to bake and sew, and do household labor generally, and her husband is said to be quite proud of her. The other, Mrs. Oberday, became enamored of one of the braves at Washington, where he had gone with other chiefs of his tribe to negotiate a treaty, and she followed him to his home on the prairie.

DAVID T. LEWZAN.—This gentleman, by common consent of the delegates attending the Republican State Convention from the different counties in the 19th (Egypt ian) Congressional District, was designated for the office of Congress against John A. Logan ("O. W.") for Congress at the coming election. We are informed by the Office Seekers from Washington, who have been canvassing for office, and intending pursuing them with vigor until the day of election. "D. W." will find a double's play to grapple with his opponent. The congressional district is Democratic ing. Mr. Lincoln may not hope to carry the District, but he will make serious inroads upon the Democratic majority heretofore accorded.

FROM LAKE SUPERIOR—SEVEN MEN DROWNED.—By the arrival of the North Star at Detroit, on Thursday, we have news from Lake Superior to Monday last. On Sunday, seven men, miners, most of whom were unemployed, undertook to cross Portage Lake from Hancock to Houghton, and when about half way across the boat swamped and seven of the men drowned. The names of the persons are unknown. There were also four lights, and two were saved in the same day, making altogether an interesting sunday's work.

WHEAT CROP IN BUREAU COUNTY.—A close estimate shows the amount of winter wheat sown in the past season in Bureau county to cover 16,740 acres. Allowing twenty bushels to the acre as the product, and the yield of spring wheat harvest will be 334 800 bushels—worth, at 75 cents per bushel, $251,600. The Bureau county Republican thinks the crop will set strong Stives bushels to the acre, which would raise the aggregate to 251,100 bushels, worth $188,325.

HORRID DEATH.—A young man named John Harbin, was killed on Thursday of last week, near Wood River, Madison County, Ill. He was engaged in boxing a hand on a shaft in a saw mill, when his clothes caught on a bolt, and he was whirled around, and his body was literally crushed to a jelly.

EARTHQUAKE.—The Wapello (Iowa) Republican says three slight shocks of an earthquake were felt in that town on the 29th inst., between 10 and 11 o'clock at night. It distinctly felt in different parts of the town, and was severe enough to rattle windows, and set clock beds ringing.

RAILROAD APPOINTMENT.—Cyrus P. Leland, formerly Cashier and General Ticket Agent of the Chicago and Milwaukee Railroad at Milwaukee, has been appointed General Account ant of the Michigan Southern Railroad at the office in Toledo.

ROLLING MILL AT PEORIA.—J. M. Crawford & Co., of Peoria, propose to build a rolling mill in that city worth $75,000, if the citizens will subscribe $25,000 of the amount. The Transcript strongly urges upon the people of Peoria a ready compliance with these terms.

FATAL ACCIDENT IN PRISON.—A convict in the Kansas State prison, at Leavenworth, on Saturday the 19th by a blood which was attached to a cordial cast striking him in the head. His name was Sylvanus Brooks.

CURIOUS CASE OF INSANITY.—Mr. Winternute, a degustrator artist in Adams, Mich., has been rendered insane by inhaling salphuretted hydrogen, which he has used in his actions in considerable quantities.

THE SOUTH EXPECT "OLD ABE" TO BE THE NEXT PRESIDENT.—A private letter from a young gentleman residing in the Greenville district, South Carolina, says:

"In regard to the Chicago nomination, the majority of the people here considered it the Binnerd ticket that could have been brought forward; and many of them expect to see "Old Abe" the occupant of the White House. In addition to this, some of them say they prefer him to Douglas by all odds.

"There is a pretty strong party of the regular Breckinridge men, who go in for disunion strong, but I do not think they have a majority in the district, although they can make the most noise."

Recognition of a Church.

(Correspondence of the Press and Tribune.)

BATAVIA, ILL., June 30.

A Baptist Ecc ustical Council was convened at Batavia, Ill., June 29 last, from Churches in the surrounding towns. Rev. R. Ashley or Gowner's Grove was appointed moderator, and Rev. S. A. Isabel of Aurora, Clerk.

After a careful investigation into the circumstances of the formation of "the Union Baptist Church" in said town, the Council proceeded publicly to recognize the same. The sermon on the occasion was delivered by Rev. J. Woodward of Sacoville. Right Hand of Fellowship was given to the Church by Rev. R. Ashley; charge to the Church by Rev. I. N. Emmons of Pano; usual address to the Congregation by Rev. S. A. Esther of Aurora.

The Church was formed Oct. 30th, 1859. Rev. E. R. Warren of Chicago was elected Pastor, J. S. Canfield, Deacon, C. C. Bickard, Clerk, and Geo. Book, Treasurer. A very interesting Sabbath School has been gathered, and is very respectable Congregation. The Sunbird Hall, which has been generously fitted up for the public meetings of the Church, and now by the designs of this Ecclesiastical Council, the little organization, who in place among the other Christian churches in the State. We noticed the singing, by the choir, under the lead of Mr. Isbom, was very good, and received the applause of the Council.

The commencement of this church has been under very great trials, but the Saviour smiles on the work upon the enterprise; and now the hearts of the brethren and sisters are encouraged; and they seem to be filled with a new and new energy and pleasure. May "the little one become a thousand, and the small one a strong nation."

The Campaign in Michigan.

(Corre pondence of the Press and Tribune.)

WEST MANCHESTER, Mich., June 28, 1860.

Never before was a nomination received by the people with such enthusiasm. No man, not even Douglas, can or ought to stand in the way of Abe." He is a man of the people. His honesty, honesty and integrity are never questioned by his opponents, and they all unite in saying that he will be hard to beat. When the news of his selection at Chicago was received here the Democrats were lost about the wind bent set of the tree, as the saying is. The fact is, if the Sequator Sovereign is not put up at Balti more it will hardly be worth while for them to run a ticket in this State.

One thing we are satisfied of in regard to Mr. Lincoln. He is not committed to cliques, and will be free from promises which he may make Our Static Convention put up "Our Blair, Lincoln and Blair and Blair on the State and Lincoln and Blair." Lincoln is a Democrat, and Blair is a Democrat, and we cannot fail to carry the State by 10,000 majority, round numbers. Hurrah for "Honest Old Abe"

YOURS, &c.

THE WISCONSIN.

(Correspondence of the Pressed Tribune.)

BEAVER, WIS., June 30th, 1860.

The ball rolls rapidly on, and, or third-a ety, where people rarely get jugged "Abe" is the man for the hour. He is a democrat, so we are go time-quite a campaign nominee. The Wide Awake Clubs are getting so numerous and popular that "the boys" are beginning to feel that they could afford to be negligent, and accordingly organized last week. It proved for the first time on Saturday night to torchlight procession numbering sixty strong. They have adopted the uniform of the Chicago Wide Awake, which is very neat. The Wide Awakes could not fail to commend them selves to their opponents, and when told that there was only about one-third of the Club out in procession, the Democrats took hold and gave three cheers, as a man does just before he gets a chill.

Democrat look a little sorry about this time, alarmingly between hope and fear—hoping for a good and Democratic Bummer, but almost despairing of getting it. YOURS, &c. DEREX.

Delaware Coming.

The "People's party" was organized in Delaware at the same time and on the same basis as the "People's party in Pennsylvania, and in the campaign of 1858 polled 7500 votes, being but about 400 less than a majority. All its present leaders are Democrats, and all the State Central Committee seven of the nine members are arrow. Our ground they agreed to secede, and that the whole opposition in Delaware go united. A State convention is to be held July 18th to nominate a candidate for Congress.

The Burning of the Propeller M. B. Spaulding.

Capt. Tothrop of the propeller M. B. Spaulding, which was destroyed by fire on Wednesday morning, off Point Au Sable, Lake Michigan, arrived at Detroit on Tuesday morning. He made the following statement to the Detroit Free Press:

Capt. Lothrop was burning the storm of fire, reached the Point Au Sable, but found his egress cut off by the fire, when he made a desperate effort to cling to the window, and then reach the deck, but was forced to let go his hold and plunge to jump clear and to save themselves, the other remained. Mr. Lothrop, in the water's edge, thought was scuttled and sank. The Captain swam ashore, and was carried by tide to the bank on the dock, about 100 yards from the place of the disaster, bruised and lacerated. Mr. Lothrop, of Detroit, was drowned.

Capt. Lothrop, in the day previous, had compared taking a cargo of lumber for Buffalo, and when the fire discovered, some unobserved or forty tossed feet were on board, the discovered in Manitowoc. The cargo was given the insurance seen among from her forward gang, and the Captain thinks it is probable that the first hold crept in the hold. Captain Lthrop seems to incline to the belief that the fire was set by an incendiary. At sea or about the second engineer was on deck and found a trail. The second engineer had a dispute with the Captain, but the Captain, and cards were trying on foot towards the day. The sa ch charing engineer, that was so grieved at, appears, is that he slept at his post. The Spaulding was valued at $20,000, and owned by Noyes Rodney, of Buffalo, who put insured for this sum for $6,000, although she was worth $10,000. She was on round, regulary between Buffalo and Chicago, and, however, will still fall far short of the amputate of a Kansas pelaid, and the loss of the Spaulding "dilly" can never so high, say bubbles of Broadway will transpire, and the Spaulding, the mud turtle shell of a scowing in which the Spaulding sailed, will be so far as to be probable that the peculiar style our dressing to wear, and the our vestors will ever become a favorite with our people. Our ladies will be seen in the streets and balls pale before the glories of parent leather, and the gents will be seen in the home of the Princes (re determines not to be mentioned in the same breath in our ladies) and "Sir" will be nothing of the fallidiest "swallow tail coat." The longest wave on the Boulevard will be seen a pavoin with our people, but it is personal wear will never go out of fashion. Our ladies will leave no New York than morning by the Lake Valley route.—Detroit Free Press.

EPIDEMIC AMONG THE SHEEP IN PENNSYLVANIA.—The Chambersburg (Pa.) Repository says a disease which has been so destructive to cattle in the Western States, has made its appearance in the sheep of Mr. James Morrison, of Churchtown, Lancaster county, and died on Saturday, Thursday, he lost about forty, and others were in a dying condition when the last left the Valley. He exhibited a small quantity of gravelly sort of substance taken from the stomach of one of the dead sheep, which he thinks is the real phenomenon for analyzation; but after a thorough examination of the stomach he could not at it. He states that the disease in very fatal in its effects, and that it is spreading and off the sheep in a short time after being attacked.

Southern Senators have fallen into an age based and demonstrated, as they thought, "labor in the sweat of their brow." Senator Hammond pronounced them the "mud-sills of society and political life." Senator Mason in quiet manner denounced them as "criminal," and Senator Green called them "a degraded and inferior race." Hammond and Mason are "bearsonal." Hammond. If these are to be regarded as sentiments of the Democratic party, announced through its leaders, it is hopeless to expect a Democratic victory. Mason is broken up.—Iowa State Journal.

BELIEVE TO THE REPUBLICANS.—A pretty good "sell" was perpetrated a the House the 5th ? day by 20 members, who voted for Mr. Pettit, who was just returned from the Senate, and ask d every one they meet if they had "heard of the extinction of the Senate." "Why, no," would be the reply, "what was it?" "The greatest extinction of the Senate ever known, Pettit is dead." Mr. Pettit, continued the reporter. "Well, what was he? what was the cause?" "Why," responded the reporter, "just as the clerks of the Senate were reading the prayer, and got as far as 'Oh Lord, thou art our refuge,' the members of the Republican party Democratic Senator drew his Revolver, and exclaimed in a loud voice, 'Where is he?'"

THE TRAGICAL END OF A FOUR LOVERS.—Wm. Rhodes, who at R. C. Rhodes, was found dead in Lumber river on Monday last, with her throat cut and hard crushed. She had a fair day a previous elopet with a free mulatto named Shad Williams, taking with them $2,000 in money. Williams has been arrested and lodged in the jail at Lumberton, N. C. Wilmington (N. C.) Carolinian.

MONETARY

FRIDAY EVENING, June 23, 1860.

Exchange is a shade easier to day; but the amount of ring is still below the wants of the market. The banks are paying 1¼@1¾ the current selling rate is still 1¾. The activity of shipments for the past two days gives promise of a still better supply.

Currency is abundant and accumulating. The prospect now is that bolders will have to carry over considerable amounts for a week or two weeks, at least. It is not likely that the surplus will be wasted till the new crop begins to move.

Gold is still in demand at 1¼ to par county and State issues.

KANSAS "WILD CATS"—Several attempts have made to establish "wild cat" banks in Kansas, but the intelligence and the stern integrity of the people prove them no go or, and they were very soon officially informed of it. A new "institution" has recently commenced business at Lawrence, called the Lawrence Bank The Leavenworth Kansas Dispatch "indorses" the concern as follows:

The Bank is decently gotten up—of the denomination of one, two, three and five dollars and provided with all the security intended precautions against counterfeiting—which is an unnecessary expense, as no counterfeiter would think of imitating such Western Bank. Robert Ridgely, Lawrence, signs the notes as President. We feels that Mr Ridgely is a reliable and trap-cute business man, but the opinion generally prevails among him as yet that he "can't keep a bank." Gov Stanton is Cashier. The very name is suspicious—it smells of death in it. When we heard of our wheelbarrow in the world we felt a "sinking" sensation connected with it The "Lawrence Bank" would be to us a wild fire. Gov Stanton was engaged Upon the bottom of the bills he secured by pledge of public stocks. The stocks referred to are claim bonds issued by the Auditor of the Territory in the Elwood, Iowa, and other of Lower Co, and as those are a very profitable investment, we are being requested to the people, the Lawrence Bank, but they refuse, and pledge very binding.

The receipts which took place at the close of the market yesterday in Corn and Oats were at the opening to day, under an active shipping and speculative inquiry, and several cargoes changed hands at 44@45c for No. 2, and 42@43c for No. 2. After the shippers had their orders filled, however, the market became very quiet, and closed about the opening figures for oats. About 1,000 bushels were sold, at 58c prime River Yellow; about 4,000 for No 2 River Mixed at 44; 4,000 for No 2 Green at 44; 4,000 for No 2 in store; and 4,000 for R jected, for six cargoes of this amount, there was freight room engaged—nearly all to Buffalo. The receipts amounted to 103,593 bushels, and the shipments to 57 8 bushels. The Wheat market at the opening, because active and excited, and an advance of 2c was speedily established, but owing to the willingness of holders to sell at the improvement, the market became heavy and the advance was nearly lost towards the close. About 60,000 bushels change hands—of which two cargoes were taken for shipment—at 110@1 10 for No 1 in store; 1 07@1 08 for No 2 Spring, and 95c for Rejected. Quite were more active and a shade easier—sales being made at 17@18 in store. Rye and Barley are in good demand. Mess Pork in good request at $19 90—at which about 110 bbls were sold. But lard is good and market and shipping prices hold quite to buy almost at their own figures. Hides quiet. Wool in good request and more active at previous quotations.

F eights to day were somewhat heavier than ruling at 4c for corn to Port Colborne and Buffalo, and 5c for oats to Kingston. To for wheat to Oswego, and 5c for oats to Oswego.

NEW DARLEY.—The Cincinnati Price Current of yesterday says:

The bulk of receipts continue to arrive freely and in fair demand, chiefly for home use, the export trade being somewhat checked. Barley and Rye are inactive.

NEW YORK.—The Times of yesterday says:

The payments into the private banking houses to day for Exchange caused a free offering of money, on call loans, at 6 per cent as the rule, and 4 on notes discounted. There is nothing new in discounts, which, outside of bank, range 6@8 per cent, for prime existing and 8@10 for second to date. Choose a safe name 6@8, and to date, to run, are done at 1¼@1½ per cent, and endorsed paper 5@6 per cent. The July Interest on the Stocks and Western State debts, due in this city, is coming in freely. The Dock of Commerce has received the amount to be disbursed 1st, yesterday, on Monday, a draft on the Sub Treasury for $598,000 being at hand to day.

MILWAUKEE MARKETS—June 21—Receipts for the past 24 hours, 17,663 bu Wheat. Shipped, 15,916 bu wheat. The Sentinel of this morning says:

The slow one's news had a stimulating influence upon the market, and it was not long before the close had advanced fully 2¼ cents, by being in request of bolders transactions were limited. In the afternoon buyers were plenty at 1 07@1 10 for Spring, and a parcel of 1,000 bu was made for delivery on board of cars at 1 07. No 2 was held from sale at $1 05 is more, but very little was offered. We learn of no sales of corn outside of the house, the millers standing aloof from the speculative excitement. Oats are selling to a wide range in prices, the market coming at the close quite heavily at 45c for Western, and 48@50 for Canada.

Flour was more active and higher, due to good country Extra being in request. Some fine samples reported sales at about 12@ 8bls.

Grain grades remain quiet. There is some demand for Oats at 45@ 48c. Corn dull at 46c. Barley nominal. Rye is also dull and lower, large lots being offered at 50c, and for the best Highwines firmer, but unchanged. Wool firm at previous quotations.

TOLEDO MARKETS—June 21.—The market to day is excited and very active, the speculation showing a decided "hollowing" tendency. Wheat—No sales. Corn—No sales reported since report; sale before report of 5000 bushels at 44c, cash. Oats—Water quiet, with a good tendency. Sales 1000 bu at 50c; 2000 bu at 49c; 2000 bu at 48c; 2000 do do. Some talk among by telegraph of 45c, but no sales for better figure.

THE RECIPROCITY TREATY.—The New York Shipping List says:

The treaty between the two governments which has been made public, is a very one-sided affair. They bring cargoes of sugar, tea, and silk from various parts of Ca ada to Rouse's Point on the side of the first, and from the other side of Lake Champlain to Troy and New York. The Hudson River, Canal, and Lake Champlain and Tribune. They come under the reciprocity treaty, but not under the Customs and is a carrying trade from any other of the British Provinces. Speaking of the Reciprocity Treaty, we learn from a gentleman who has perused Mr Hatch's special report on the commercial intercourse between the United States and the British Provinces as he has communicated to Congress. He says the chief value of the report is that it shows the disadvantages of the Reciprocity Treaty on our country, and shows that the most radical and efficacy remedy be—a question, is a very debatable question. For—instance, Mr Taylor, another Special Commissioner, says he can safely state that there is no one country west of Bufalo, on the line of the great lakes, and the Mississippi, that is in opposition to the treaty. If any change is demanded, it is in favor of the territorial extension to the one hundred and forty fifth degree of west longitude, in British Columbia, so as to merit the protection of the British navy, or Customs Union."

MOVEMENT OF PRODUCE ON THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL RAILROAD.—The movement of produce on the Illinois Central this year will probably be 80 per cent, beyond the quantities moved in 1859. The figures for the first five months, as compared with previous years, are as follows:

Corn, bus,	1,000,000	207,000	468,000	1,000,000
Wheat, bus,	250,000	100,000	200,000	300,000
Flour, bbls,	65,000	30,000	40,000	60,000
Pork, bbls,	50,000	20,000	40,000	60,000
Lard, tcs,	50,000	20,000	40,000	60,000
Lard, kegs,	50,000	20,000	40,000	60,000

The 456,790 bushels of wheat moved thus far, is more than the total receipts for the year 1859, in that date 1-of year 326,982 bushels were our receipts. Nearly all the corn, and nearly all the flour, forwarded this year have gone to northern markets, and the Corn, Flour and Pork engage or returning propelled to sale of land; some little and speculative inquiry, and several cargoes changed hands at 44@45c for No. 2, and 42@43c for No. 2. After the shippers had their orders filled, however, the market became very quiet, and closed about the opening figures for oats. About 1,000 bushels were sold, at 58c prime River Yellow; about 4,000 for No 2 River Mixed at 44; 4,000 for No 2 Green at 44; 4,000 for No 2 in store; and 4,000 for R jected, for six cargoes of this amount, there was freight room engaged—nearly all to Buffalo. The 456,790 bushels of wheat moved thus far, is more than the total receipts for the year 1859, in that date

The Chicago Market was fairly active for all the market yesterday in Corn and Provisions at the opening to-day, under an active shipping and speculative inquiry, and several cargoes changed hands at 48@48½c for No 2, and 43@43½c for No. 3. After the shippers had their orders filled, however, the market became very quiet, and closed about 1c lower than yesterday. About 100,000 bushels were sold, at Sc prime River Rye without; 55c for No 2 Western Mixed Oats; 4 4-8@5c for No 1 Barley; 4 4-8@5c for 2 in store; and 46c for R jected. For our cargoes of this amount, there was freight room engaged—nearly all in shipping. The receipts amounted to 105,898 bushels, and the shipments to 87 81 bushels. The Wheat market at the opening became some less quiet, and an advance of 2c was speedily established; but owing to the willingness of holders to sell at the improvement, the market became heavy and the advance was nearly lost towards the close. About 60,000 bushels change hands—of which two cargoes were taken by shippers—at $1.00@1.10 for No 1 in store; $1.07@1.10 for No 2 Spring, and 85c for Rejected. Oats were more active and a shade easier—about 100,000 bushels at 27@28 in store. Rye and Barley dull and nominal. Mess Pork in good request at $19.00—which advanced 10 bbls were sold; but later in good supply and market still dull—ship pers big enough to buy almost at their own figures. Lard quiet. Meats in good request and more active at previous quotations.

Freights today were as follows: Corn was heavily engaged, at 4c for corn to Fort Colborne and Buffalo, 5c for corn to Kingston, 7½c for wheat to Oswego, and 8c for oats to Buffalo.

New Bedford.—The Cincinnati Price Current of yesterday says:

The bailey harvest is over in this and the adjoining counties, and the crop is a size one, though the yield will be below an average. We understand that 1500 per bushel has been offered for it and refused by the growers.

Tobacco, of course, refers to fall sown barley, very little of which is raised in this section of country.

Superior Flour.—The Cincinnati Price Current says:

A good deal of the superfine now coming to market is not made of the best of wheat, that is, the "cream" is taken out of the wheat for extra and the superfine is a kind of residue from the middlings, and in article the flour from a white wheat middlings is this way which has been for years in great request in parts of the east. Indeed, some of our inspectors have not been able to see through it.

Cincinnati Produce Market.—Yesterday's Price Current contains the following review of the previous market:

The provision market has assumed a firm aspect, and holders have put up prices of all articles. Beef and pork sharply advanced, Bacon has gone 250 per lb., and towards the close the advance for bacon had almost disappeared. It is clear, that as the season progresses, the confidence of holders increases, and the belief that the supply will not be equal to the wants of consumers, is more and more strong. Summer curing is going on rapidly, and about 4,000 hogs per week are being dealt with. The feeling regarding the future of the provisions has, in a very strong degree, taken the year's stock, but also as regards near season, and considerable sales of Bacon have been made within the last two days at $6.50 for November-delivery, and $7 for the last half of December. It is therefore clear that a great cha-ge must take place in the trade, and some holders, instead owing the seas ho r or lour months, or high prices will be paid for hogs next season.

Lard is lower in better demand, particularly for interior curing the week, and sales were made at 11@11½c. The demand for Lard for New Orleans, where it has advanced to 12@12½c. There were little offering, but the demand was very slow, with the market nominally declined half a cent. Only 2,000 kegs Lard were sold, and in demand at 10c.

Hay.—Several fields of wheat—early May 1—have been harvested in this county. Hills were—the earliest we ever knew. The grass yield, but not very many of them. The wheat crop, though, is much better at present than last year.—Cincinnati Commercial.

St Louis Markets—June 20—The Missouri Democrat of yesterday says:

Ashes be very quiet for flour to-day, to fill orders. Wheat is comparatively very small, but the market is nominally firm. Corn is in good demand, with receipts of 14,000 ch-bls. Nothing received, and in fair demand. Whisky steady at 18c, with fair receipts.

Fredericksburg Markets—June 21—The Gazette of yesterday says:

There was considerable activity in the flour market yesterday, although the transactions were mostly confined to small lots. Wheat is in prime shape and market at change to notice. Corn is in a better feeling and market at change to notice. Sales 400 bu from store at 35 @ 36. Corn there is but little offering, but we hear that some have will meet their limit in a few weeks. Oats 20@22 from store at 20c; 1 load do do wheat at 30c; 450 do from store at 20c, and 20 bush sold at 22 c.

New York—June 20.—Receipts, 7,901 brls flour, 42,500 bu wheat, 35,744 bu corn; 19,488 bu oats. The following review and statistics are from the circular of Edward Hall:

For the last two weeks the supplies of Flour have increased and been in excess of the demand; this has occasioned an accumulation of material, and buyers have had their own way, particularly for the common brands, or such as the warm weather would the soonest affect. The demand has been confined to home and the direction, both for home use and export; there was, however, a fair Market yesterday, and an improvement of 8@10c per barrel in price.

The demand for Rye Flour continues good. Wheat have again been large, combined chiefly in Western Club; the supplies have been rather the demand irregular, and prices have fluctuated, and in the interval have been several cents lower than our present quotations. For the different descriptions of Wheat there has been no little inquiry, and prices have maintained. Yesterday's Exchange, with more favorable foreign advices, is likely to bring Wheat this not differently, and although the outlook was checked by an increase in the sales of foreign, yet sales were made at an advance of 2@3c, and the Corn market was active and firm, and prices advanced 1@2c. Oats were in good request and firm.

The Western Express,

Owned and operated by the Company will be run over the Great Western Railway of Canada, and connected at the Suspension Bridge with the Express Trains for Buffalo, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago, Cairo, Louisville, Nashville, Memphis, New Orleans, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Chicago, Milwaukee, Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Boston, Portland, Montreal, Quebec, Portland, Boston, Albany, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Cincinnati, Louisville, Nashville, Memphis, New Orleans, Cairo of the market yesterday in Corn was continued at the opening to-day, under an active shipping and speculative inquiry, and several experts offered heavily at 40@40½c for No. 1, and 40@41½c for No. 2. A few shippers had their orders filled, however, the main business very quiet, and closed about 1c lower than yesterday. About 170,000 bushels were sold, at 40c for Newer York and Boston, 40½c for Rice Hard, 41c; at 41@40c for No 1 in store; 41@41½ for No 2 in store; and 46c for R. [illegible]. For six cargoes of the amount, three was freight room engaged—nearly all to Buffalo. The receipts amounted to 105,893 bushels, and the shipments to 87,815 bushels. The Wheat market is the opening hour was more lively and an advance of 3c was speedily established; but owing to the willingness of holders to sell at the improvement, the market became heavy and the advance was nearly lost towards the close. About 40,000 bushels change hands—of which two cargoes were taken by shippers at $1.09@1.10 for No 1 in store; $1.07@1.10 for No 2 Spring, and 95c for Rejected. Oats were more active and a little easier—sales being made at 27½@28c in store. Rye and Barley dull and nominal. New Pork is good request at $13.00—in lots to actual 100 barrels. Lard is good supply and market still dull—shippers hold a little to buy almost at their own figures. Hides quiet. Wool in good request and more active at previous quotations.

Freights today were active—nine vessels being engaged, at 4c for corn to Port Colborne and Buffalo, 7c for wheat to Kingston, 7½c for wheat to Oswego, and 8c for oats to Buffalo.

New Safety.—The Cincinnati Price Current of yesterday says:

The bad weather is over in this and the adjoining counties, and the cold air of one, though the thermometer will be below an average. We others and that 21,000 pork barrels have been offered for a new crop delivered in September.

Time, of course, refers to full sown barley, very little of which is raised in this section of country.

Superfine Flour.—The Cincinnati Price Current says:

A good deal of the superfine now coming to market is not made out of original stock, but is the "cream" is taken out of the wheat for extra and the superfine is a mixture made from the middlings; and on article has been made from white wheat middlings in Kentucky, which has been sold for extra to parties not well posted. Indeed, some of our flour inspectors have not been able to see through it.

Cincinnati Produce Market.—Yesterday's Price Current contains the following review of the provision market:

The provision market has assumed a firm aspect, and holders have put up prices of all articles. Bacon and bulk meats go per lb, and meats pack 20c per lb, and we understand the advance for bacon had been partially established. It is clear, that as the season progresses, the confidence of holders increases, and the belief that the supply will not be equal to the waste of consumers, is now quite general. Summer curing is going on rapidly, and about 2,000 hogs are now coming daily to market. The feeling regarding the future of the provision trade, is not only strong as regards the year's stock, but also as regards next season, and considerable sales of bulk have been made within the last ten days at $6.50 for November delivery, and $6 for delivery in December. It is therefore clear that a great change must take place in the tendency of prices, and the best owing the next the corn or four months, or high prices will be paid for the product.

Lard has been in better demand, particularly for refiners, curing the week, and sales were made at 11½@11½c. The demand in New New Orleans, where it is substituted for butter. There is very little offering, but the demand for the New York, Philadelphia, and Boston trade, $5 per cent. Hogs are in good demand, and sales are made at 5c.

Hawthorn—Seventh field of wheat—early May ship—have been harvested in the county this week—the earliest in memory. The grain good, but not very many of it. The wheat crop, though, is almost an entire failure this year.—Bloomington Herald.

St Louis Markets—June 20—The Missouri Democrat of yesterday says:

Aloft has been steady for flour to-day, to fill orders. Wheat receipts were small, but the market continues dull. Corn, receipts were dull, with receipts of 14,000 bushels. Nothing moved, and the market was dull. Whisky steady at 18c, with fair receipts.

Philadelphia Markets—June 22—The Gazette of yesterday says:

There was considerable activity in the flour market yesterday, although the transactions were mostly confined to small lots, the demand is prosaic there is no major at change to notice. Prices are in rather better demand, and prices are more steady. Sales 600 bbls from store at $5 @ 5½. In corn there is little doing, holders are so far more than will meet their limited wants. Sales 200 bu our from store at 58c; 100 bbls do white at 55c; 450 do from store at 60c, and 60 bush sealed at 45c.

New York—June 20—Receipts, 7,591 brls flour, 43,260 bu wheat, 39,744 bu corn, 19,438 bu oats. The following review and statistics are from the circular of Edward Bill:

For the last two weeks the supplies of Flour have increased and been in excess of the demand; this has occasioned an exceedingly dull market and buyers have had their own way, particularly for the common brands, or such as the warm weather would not keep the longest. The demand has been moderate even at the reduction, both for home use and exports; there was, however, a better looking yesterday, and an improvement in the demand for Corn.

Flour export to England the operations of Wheat have again been large, combined chiefly to 31 Liverpool Club; the shipping have been but the demand irregular, and prices have fluctuated, and in the interval have been several cases lower than our prices quotations. For the different descriptions of Wheat there has been our little inquiry, and prices have maintained
